Heritage Information

- ~31 cultivars (6 Rlc., 6 Rth., 6 C., 2 Eny., and 11 single genera quality awardees) pictured in the awards section of 2018 issues of Orchids
- Generated a heritage database (93 ‘Workhorses’, 2018 Orchids quality awardees)
  - Reviewed heritage of all 2018 Orchids awardees
  - Reviewed heritage of all appropriate grexes identified by
    - C. T. Hackney, 2004, American Cattleyas – Species and Outstanding Clones That Define American Hybridizing (mentioned in yellow palette section)
    - R. Midgett, Jun 2010 Orchids, Crippling – A Genetic Problem in Yellow and Art‐Shade Cattleyas, pg. 314‐319
    - Two personal (Ctt. Kauai Starbright, Rlc. Williette Wong)
- From this database (4 sources, old workhorses and potentially new workhorses) determined grexes that had the most F1, F2 and total F1+F2 progeny registered in the 2015-2018 time frame.
- The following tables have the most used species and the top ten number of grexes (either old or new) in each category (F1, F2, total F1+F2)

Most used Species
Old Workhorses

C. dowiana (39)
C. warscewiczii (11)
Rl. digbyana (9)
C. mossiae (8)
C. trianae (8)
C. cinnabarina (7)

Count example:
C. Luminosa (1901) (C. dowiana x C. tenebrosa)
176 F1 and 11,641 total progeny
C. dowiana / C. tenebrosa each count only once
C. Carmencita (C. Luminosa (1901) x C. dowiana)
38 F1 and 4,260 total progeny
C. dowiana count ‘one’, C. tenebrosa count ‘zero’
Total ‘count’ for above two crosses
C. dowiana – 2
C. tenebrosa – 1
