Orchids of Perú

by César Ushima

Perú is considered one of the most biodiverse countries and harbor approximately 10% of the world orchid species. César will be reviewing some of the most important and lesser known native orchids from Perú.

César was born and raised in Perú. He has been growing orchids since an early age. He worked in the Peruvian National Park Administration, where he had the opportunity to see orchids in their natural habitat. He is currently an Associate Orchid Judge for the American Orchid Society (AOS).

Greenhouse Tour?

It has been a few years since we had a greenhouse tour. Lets see if we can get one set up for this fall. Sunday, October, 22nd seems like a good day. Say 1 to 4:00.

The first thing we need are four or five greenhouses to visit, so if you have a greenhouse or even better a growing area that you grow your orchids in and wish to share, like your backyard or a breezeway or sunroom, contact me and I'll see if we can get enough interest to pull this thing off.

So again, if you have a greenhouse or growing area you wish to put on tour please let me know, and if we get enough interest we can have a fun afternoon of looking at orchids. And asking questions. And sometimes there is wine involved.
